STANFORD, KY., JANUARY 22, 1882

W. P. WALTON.

The poor, deluded negroes will learn after a while that the republicans care nothing for them except to use them to advance their own selfish designs, and that when they demand that their days as hewers of wood and drawers of water shall end and their race be recognized in the distribution of the offices their votes have secured, their right of suffrage will be either curtailed or entirely taken from them. In an interview, Gen. Mahone, the renegade Virginian, who rode into prominence and office on the shoulders of the colored people and of the whites who are as unworthy of Virginia's birthright as he, says "the idea of the negroes demanding cabinet representation in Harrison's administration is too absurd to enter in any degree into the factorage of the political situation. There will be no colored men in Harrison's Cabinet. The time for that has not yet arrived. I do not approve of colored men thrusting themselves forward as candidates for prominent positions. My advice is to the negro to address his energies and enterprises to industrial and educational matters until such time as they shall undoubtedly be qualified for the higher places of trust and emolument. If the negro persists in putting himself forward unduly he will alienate his best friends. The best minds of the North and of the republican party feel that he is a heavy load to carry, so feel Senator Hoar and other great men who are at this day bound to admit that it was a great mistake to make him a participant in a function of government which requires intelligence and a judicious use of franchise to discharge properly." Let every colored man who reads these lines ponder over them well and bear in mind the prediction that the republicans will endeavor to correct the "mistake" whenever their votes are no longer necessary to their lease of power.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union presented to the Senate last week a petition signed by 14,174,734 persons, asking the body to enact stringent laws prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquors. The stack of paper was so high that even the large ears of the little jacks, Ingalls, could hardly be seen after it was piled up before him. Senator Riddleberger was the only man to open his mouth. He said he believed heartily in the right of petition, but he wanted to put himself on record as eternally opposed to any such legislation. The Senator has never been accused of aiding the cause of prohibition further than to furnish the "terrible example" for its advocates. He loves his bitters too well.

The Louisville Post is authority for the statement that the leather lunged Denny and our own Billy O'Bradley do not speak as they pass by. Cause why? Because it is alleged when Denny asked Bradley by letter to endorse him for district attorney, the latter said he wasn't in position to endorse anybody to speak of. The "general," doncherknow, is following up a cold trail for a cabinet position and wants to make his own calling and election sure before he commits himself to anybody. Evidently there is going to be a Kilkenny cat fight among the "leaders" and the fun will soon grow thick and furious.

Our exchanges are warned against the Hartsfield Smelting and Refining Company, of Cincinnati. They are frauds, as the Record has found out to its sorrow.—Bardstown Record. It is commendable in our contemporary to expose this fraud, but it would have been best to refuse their propositions, without references, as we did. A concern that orders an "ad." inserted without an agreement as to price is generally n. g.

Our correspondent who suggests Richard C. Warren, Esq., for the legislature strikes a very popular chord, for no man stands higher in this county as a man and as a democrat than he. We do not know that Mr. Warren would accept the nomination if tendered him, but we do know that if he would Lincoln would have as capable, as honest and as true a representative as ever sat in legislative halls.

The prohibitionists are preparing to tackle the tiger in his hair, as it were. They will hold a big meeting in Louisville, Feb. 13 and 14, at which Gens. Fisk and Brooks and all the leading members will be present. Their object, besides other things, is to nominate a candidate for state treasurer.

FLORIDA furnishes another instance of the old and generally adopted way of locking the stable after the horse is stolen. The Jacksonville experience has caused the governor to call the legislature together to adopt stringent health board regulations.

RICHARD GODSON, of the Midway Clipper, is flatteringly mentioned for the legislature in Woodford and the people of that county would not only honor a good man, but do themselves credit by electing him.

It seems to be the opinion of the pension sharks and coffee-coolers that when Harrison succeeds the honest and watchful Cleveland, that the bung will be knocked out of the treasury barrel and pension money will flow to every son-of-a-gun, who can prove by perjury and otherwise that he had the remotest connection with the army during the war. We hope they will be mistaken, but perhaps our wish is based on a flimsy foundation. Certain it is that we will not have again soon so watchful a guard of the people's rights and of their treasury as the man who retires from the White House March 4th. That he will be faithful to the last moment is shown in the manner that he examines every bill sent for his approval. Only last week he vetoed three pension frauds that Congress would have imposed. In the first the soldier had lost an arm, but the records showed that he had deserted twice and had been absent 14 months without leave; in another a soldier died while at home on a furlough from smallpox not contracted in the army, and in the third case the man was drowned while out sailing for pleasure, long after the close of the war. Will Harrison overlook such steals? We very much fear that he will.

The Times' Tattler tells a story which if true should raise "Gen." Bradley in the estimation of everybody, who, unlike us, are disposed to think ill of him. He was in the next room to two democrats in a Frankfort hotel, who thinking they were unheard by others, were discussing party men and party measures in a most confidential way and saying many things they would not have had a republican hear for a good deal. In a short time a servant came in and told the gentlemen that a sick lady in the next room requested that they would not talk so loudly. They hushed up and next morning were very much chagrined that Gen. Bradley was the sick lady, he having adopted this ruse to stop the talk to which he was an unwilling listener. But by the general!

It is going the rounds that Col. Sam M. Burdett, revenue agent at Omaha, has declined an offer of a salary of $4,000 to edit the Bee of that city, after Harrison makes him walk out of the revenue agency. This is taken to mean that the brilliant Colonel intends to return to Kentucky and probably to his old place on the Perryville pike and saw a negro named Lewis Rogers building a stone fence. Last week he passed over the pike again and saw the same negro repairing the fence. Both remembered the former occasion and talked about it. This is very remarkable if true, but that "F" is a long, crooked letter and we fear our brother has fallen somewhat in the habit of it—prevaricating.

The Louisville Times is not far from wrong when it says that there is a great deal of hypocrisy and humbug and sham about those christian statesmen who oppose the admission of Utah as a State because there are some Mormons there, for it is noticeable that those solons at Washington who are most given to the practice of fornication and adultery are the bitterest opponents of Mormonism.

Twelve months ago a dozen Wisconsin girls met and solemnly covenanted together never, not even hardly ever, to marry. But nobody had asked them to that time; since then nine have broken their vows and married, two are plaintiffs in breach of promise suits and the other is trying her best to catch on to a naughty man. There's no use talking, they will all do it.

The Richmond Register says Col. S. V. Rowland, of Boyle, will be elected clerk of the Court of Appeals, and we sincerely hope it knows whereof it affirms.

The machinery necessary to the election of a president of these United States is rather complex and complicated. First the people vote for electors the first Tuesday in November; the elected electors meet at their respective State capitals the 2d Tuesday in January and choose the man whose ticket they represent for president; on the 13th of February Congress counts the vote and declares the result and on the 4th of March the successful candidate is inaugurated. Harrison will be the man, though Cleveland has 150,000 more of the popular vote and the rads are in the minority by near half a million votes.

The public printer's report shows that over 22,000,000 envelopes were printed and used by Senators and Congressmen during the first half of the 51st Congress, principally to send out speeches, many of which were never delivered. The magnitude of the office can in a measure be imagined when it is told that it takes 20 tons of paper a day to run it and that in the last six months, besides millions of copies of other work, it has printed and bound $19,000 books. As has been remarked, this is a great country.

BREE. NICHOLS, of the Olive Branch, is somewhat of a Mulhallan himself. He says that 45 years ago J. H. Wilson passed down the Perryville pike and saw a negro named Lewis Rogers building a stone fence. Last week he passed over the pike again and saw the same negro repairing the fence. Both remembered the former occasion and talked about it. This is very remarkable if true, but that "F" is a long, crooked letter and we fear our brother has fallen somewhat in the habit of it—prevaricating.

The Louisville Times is not far from wrong when it says that there is a great deal of hypocrisy and humbug and sham about those christian statesmen who oppose the admission of Utah as a State because there are some Mormons there, for it is noticeable that those solons at Washington who are most given to the practice of fornication and adultery are the bitterest opponents of Mormonism.

—The steamer Faraday has begun laying a cable between Galveston and Coatzacoalcos, Mexico. Its completion will insure rapid telegraphic communication between this country, Buenos Ayres and other important points in South America.

—The American Protective Tariff League indulged in a little dinner at Delmonico's at which $75,000 was accidentally chipped in for the good of the cause.

—Thomas A. Edison thinks that he has been swindled out of $250,000 by the treachery of his attorney in disposing of the phonograph to the Liverpool syndicate.

—There are 150,000 miles of railroad in the U. S. and each mile gives employment to at least five men, making an army of 750,000 men engaged in railroading.

—Adam Berks, who was whipped by White Caps last November at Sardinia, O., has brought suit for $10,000 damages against 16 prominent citizens of Highland county.

—Richmond, Va., has a sensation in the fact that a mulatto woman, who claims to be a daughter of W. A. Thomas, who left an estate worth $250,000, has entered suit for her part of it.

—It is rumored in Washington that Gen. Fitz Lee, at the expiration of his term as Governor of Virginia, on the 2d of January, 1890, will be appointed principal of the Virginia Military Institute.

—The House Pensions Committee reported favorably a bill to increase the pension of Col. Frank Wolford and fixed it at $50 per month, instead of $70, as fixed by the bill when sent to the committee.

—The proposed compulsory education law for Illinois requires special officers to see that it is enforced, and that all children between the ages of 7 and 15 years attend school at least 16 weeks in each year.

—James McCormick, who lives near Maysville, shot and killed a burglar who was in McCormick's store, and who proved to be William Harrison, the son of respectable parents in the neighborhood.

—Five democratic members of the West Virginia Legislature have refused to sign a call for a caucus by the democratic majority. Disinclination to support Kenna for Senator is assigned as the cause.

—The democrats of the House got in their work by passing the Springer "Omnibus" bill, which provides enabling acts for the admission to the Union of the two Dakotas, Montana, Washington and New Mexico.

—Senator Ingalls has appointed a special guard to stand over the election returns and prevent their theft. The republicans, having once stolen the Presidency, are always expecting somebody else to do it.—C. J.

—John Greenwall, who killed Lyman Weeks in Brooklyn, is the first man to be convicted of murder in New York since the new law inflicting death by electricity went into effect and a test of it will likely be made in his case.

—Our own Jas. B. McCreary, who is ever ready to aid his constituents, had passed in Congress last week special acts granting R. L. Myers of this place, and Samuel Petrey, of Crab Orchard, pensions.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

—Near Cumberland Gap, Judge Clay Turner shot and killed Calvin Watson, a well-known citizen of Bell county. The row occurred in a saloon on Yellow Fork and the victim was shot 11 times. A mob is likely to avenge the murder.

—It takes nearly half a column of space in the daily newspapers to announce that John L. Sullivan is drunk again. If this brute occupied more space in jail and less in the newspapers, it would be to the advantage of decent people.—Frankfort Capital.

—Examination of his accounts since his death shows that H. P. Marshall, who was for 20 years cashier of the Seamen's Bank in Wall Street, N. Y., him to have been a defaulter to the amount of $70,000. His high church standing precluded suspicion during his life.

—Secretary Ed Hopper poured a gallon of whisky into a well he was having bored on the Latonia grounds and after one or two drinks had been taken from it and the taste of the pure stuff being on it, the report of a whisky well spread like wildfire and the watchman was compelled to get on the pump to keep the well from being stolen.

—At Tiptonville, Tenn., the father of the groom conspired with him to murder his mother-in-law for the $300 she possessed. The daughter also entered into the scheme and the deed was committed. The crime got out and the neighbors quietly proceeded to the house of the guilty trio and hung them all to the limb of a convenient tree.

—The Kentucky Central has officially announced that it has sold its Covington shops to the Chesapeake and Ohio and that the new shops to be built will not be located at Covington. Lexington, Paris and Maysville have all been suggested as sites. The reason for changing is that the taxation in Covington is high and that the policy of that city toward the road is narrow.

—The bridge at Spottsville, Ky., on the Louisville, St. Louis & Texas railroad, was the scene of a horrible catastrophe, which resulted in the loss of perhaps over 20 lives. The contractors for the bridge on failing to receive the pay they claimed tried to prevent the road from using it, but the courts granted an injunction and trains were passing over it. Sunday the contractors with a force of 40 men were laying heavy rails across the draw to prevent its further use, when the draw broke and precipitated the men 40 feet below into the water. Some of them were crushed and maimed by the falling timbers and iron and others were drowned.

PERSONAL POINTS.

W. N. Potts went to Nashville yes- terday.

Mrs. Lou Shanks is visiting relatives in Lexington.

Mrs. John G. Lyns has been quite ill but is improving.

Little Sam Severance is ill with something like pneumonia.

Dr. Al S. Price has returned from a week's hunt in Casey.

Mr. Will M. Waters, of Junction City, was in town Sunday.

Mr. A. M. King and Miss Sadie Bright, of Danville, paid this city a visit last week.

Mr. John Smiley, of Indianapolis, attended the burial of his aunt, Mrs. Mollie Myers.

Mrs. John Jones and little Miss Le Grande, returned yesterday from a visit to Lexington.

Mr. J. H. Stevens has moved from this place to a farm in Garrard county, near McCreary.

Will Severance is in Lousiville re-pnishing the already large stock of Severance & Son.

Miss Bettie Paxton, of Stanford, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Coldwell, Elizabethtown News.

Mrs. Will Hays, of the Bryantsville neighborhood, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Beazley.

Mrs. Robt. S. Little went to Southern Kentucky and Tennessee with her husband, Monday, on a commercial trip.

F. L. Thompson, G. W. Baker and A. J. Fish, of Mt. Vernon, all good friends and patrons of this paper, were in town Friday.

We are glad to note that Mr. A. W. Montgomery, who was accidentally shot in the head, has recovered sufficiently to leave his room.

Miss Lutie Bailey and Mr. J. E. Bruce, who have been suffering slight attacks of pneumonia, are, we are glad to say, convalescing.

The Senate has confirmed the promotion to captain by the President of Lt. Joseph Garrard. He is a son of Gen. T. T. Garrard, of Manchester.

Mr. J. M. Crook, associate editor of the Mountain Echo, was in to see us Saturday. He is a most pleasant gentleman as well as an all around newspaper man.

Mr. J. S. Owsley, Jr., has returned from Lebanon, Tenn., where he has just completed his law course. He will remain with his family here for a month or so, after which he will likely go to Texas and practice his profession.

This is the 35th day since the editor broke his thigh and he is able to hobble around his room on crutches. Considering the nature of the break the doctors think this is doing remarkably well.

The young people of Liberty will give a grand hop in their new court-house on Friday night next in celebration of its completion. Trost's band from Lexington has been engaged and an excellent time is anticipated.

PURE buckwheat flour at S. S. Myers.

A. J. KNAPP, the noted optician is at the Portman House. Read his "ad" on this page.

MISS EMMA DODD asks us to state that she will open a private school at Mt. Xenia on Monday, Feb. 11th. She solicits the patronage of the community.

PROF. NILES, Normal School at Waynesburg, is, we learn, meeting with even better success than he expected. He has 45 pupils and the number is constantly increasing.

On account of failing health, Mr. Mark Hardin has decided not to go into the grocery business and has sold the goods he purchased to the various merchants here. His physicians have prescribed for him an out-door life and he will likely try farming awhile. His legion of friends here are sorry that he and his excellent wife are to leave us.

The hop given by the colored young men of this city at Odd Fellows' Hall Thursday night was a most orderly as well as a thoroughly enjoyable one. A large number of lovers of the dance from a distance were present and we are glad to state that although the town hall was denied them, the enjoyment after their disappointment, was not detracted from.

THROUGH Mrs. G. W. Yancy, of Lancaster, who is agent for the Tanqueray Portrait Society, of Brooklyn, Mr. E. B. Beazley has had a very handsome and life like crayon portrait made of his daughter, Miss Lizzie, who died a year or so ago. The work is perfect and shows plainly the touch of a true artist. Mr. Beazley prizes it very highly and the large number of persons to whom he has shown it pronounce it the finest work they have ever seen.

The pay train passed up Friday, leaving filthy lucre all along its line. At our suburban town, Rowland, the monthly pay roll runs up to nearly $10,000, a goodly amount of which is spent with our merchants here and still there are those who think that railroads are not helpful to a town. Had the tax been levied a few years ago as it should have been we would have had three railroads instead of two which would have increased the monthly pay roll at least $5,000, necessarily increasing the amount spent in our city.

A SERENADE.—Jesse Thompson, the gentlemanly tenorist artist and manager of the colored hop club, took the Danville orchestra, which he had engaged for the dance, to the editor's residence Thursday night, and gave him a delightful serenade. Considering the manner he had been treated with regard to the Opera House, the compliment was the more appreciated because it showed that he felt no ill feelings toward him for it. It was a very kind and thoughtful act, especially in his present condition, and he thanks him and his excellent music makers very heartily.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

PEASANT OCCASIONS.—A very enjoyable party was given by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Woods Friday night in honor of their guest, Miss Lillie Miller, of Richmond. The young people composing the "Surprise party gang," paid their respects to Miss Lizzie Farris on the same evening as above. Dancing and the new game—"pig tail"—with which we are not yet acquainted, were engaged in and a lively evening was spent. On the same evening Miss Melissa Adams entertained a number of her friends at her home on the Lancaster pike and lastly on the self same evening Miss Pearl Phillips, who lives on Danville Avenue, treated a number of her friends to an elegant tea. Four parties one night is certainly indicative of the fact that there is a boom in society, which for awhile seemed to have been resting with the things that were. This is a change for the better.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

BURNED TO DEATH.—Friday morning as Mrs. William Murphy, who lives near Rowland, was attending to her household affairs she was attracted by the screams of her little two-year-old daughter, who had been left in an adjoining room in the care of another daughter who is some 10 or 12 years old. On going to the room it was found that the child's clothing was ablaze and before Mrs. Murphy could extinguish it her baby was so horribly burned that it died in a few hours. The older daughter had thoughtlessly left the child and gone to the postoffice, and in her absence it had crawled to the fire and getting too close it caught.

ILLICIT DISTILLERS CAPTURED.—Deputy U. S. Marshal John Newland came in from Clay county Saturday with Robert Clark and Samuel Chadwell, both white, whom he, with Deputy Collector McGee, had captured some five miles from Manchester. They were partners and had been for a number of years making whisky on the sly at the point where they were caught. Their distillery was cut up, and a lot of beer poured out on the ground. Mr. Newland carried them directly to London where they were tried before Judge Faris and held over in $500 bond each to the U. S. grand jury which convenes in Louisville February 5th. Failing to give bond they will be held here till that date.

THE Hungarian Gypsy Quartette, Mile, Stella Long and Mr. John Thomas, a combination of musical talent which insures a rare treat to the lovers of melody will appear at Walton's Opera House, February 5th. The New London Journal says of them: "They appeared last night before a large and delighted audience. The wild, weird music by this company of artists has been heard once before in this city, and it has lost none of its novelty by repetition. Some of the airs were very beautiful, blending from the softest piano into a perfect whirlwind of crashing music. Wonderful artists these Hungarians are, and each number on the programme received its share of attention and applause. The unique songs and sketches of Mr. John Thomas were heartily received and he was recalled again and again.

A POSTOFFICE has been established at Snider, in Rockcastle county, with A. A. Fink as postmaster.

This is positively the last week. I can let my customers run. I must have money so please come in and settle with me and avoid extra trouble and expense. H. C. Rupley.

This is the 35th day since the editor broke his thigh and he is able to hobble around his room on crutches. Considering the nature of the break the doctors think this is doing remarkably well.

The young people of Liberty will give a grand hop in their new court-house on Friday night next in celebration of its completion. Trost's band from Lexington has been engaged and an excellent time is anticipated.

THE report comes via Knoxville that the L. & N. has bought the K. C., but you had better wait until it is confirmed before you bet on its truth.

BRUCE & McROBERTS again come to the front with an advertisement to run the year round. These enterprising business men thoroughly understand the value of judiciously using printer's ink.

HUGH BAKER, colored, was arrested Saturday night for selling whisky and on yesterday he was taken to Lancaster for trial. Deputy U. S. Marshal John Newland is a hard one to outwit as he who violates the law will testify.

THE managers of the Stanford Planing Mills have decided to shut down after this week on account of the want of patronage. Our citizens don't stick to home institutions as they should or this enterprise, which is a most worthy one, would now be in a flourishing condition.

ANOTHER SUCKER.—A dispatch from New York says: "Dr. Jasper Bryant, of Woodbine, Ky., saw a chance to buy $3,500 in counterfeit money for $170 and he came here on the invitation of J. M. Henderson to get it. Henderson worked the old game on him and Bryant only has a bagful of scraps of paper to show for his $170. The doctor made complaint at police court about his loss and the judge told him he was served about right." His Kentucky friends, if he has any, will agree with the judge.

THE Harrodsburg boys have just had lots of fun "running" a Louisville sucker, who bragged of his power over the fair sex. A young man who claimed to be a son of the president of Daughters College invited him out to see the girls and after donning his most killing attire, they set out. They hadn't gone far before a dozen pistol shots were fired at them and the "president's son" fell mortally wounded. The sucker, whose name was George Kempf, took to his heels and beat Maud S.'s time back to the hotel, where he related his horrible experience. It was soon made to dawn on his alleged mind that he had been made fool of and the next morning he shook the dust of the town from his feet never to return.

PLEASANT OCCASIONS.—A very enjoyable party was given by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Woods Friday night in honor of their guest, Miss Lillie Miller, of Richmond. The young people composing the "Surprise party gang," paid their respects to Miss Lizzie Farris on the same evening as above. Four parties one night is certainly indicative of the fact that there is a boom in society, which for awhile seemed to have been resting with the things that were. This is a change for the better.

STANFORD ROLLER MILLS.

All persons wishing a pleasant life and well pleased wife let them have Patent Flour made at Stanhope Roller Mills. Call for it at any grocer's and if they have any in their store, ask them to keep it, or get an order from them and get it at the Mill and I will guarantee a pleasant and interesting family.

W. N. POTTS, Superintendent.

NOTICE!

I have secured the services of a competent Carriage Maker and am prepared to do any and all kinds of repairing to Buggies, Carriages, &c.

Work entrusted to me will have my personal supervision. All work guaranteed. Prices reasonable.

WM. DAUGHERTY.

STANFORD ROLLER MILLS.

Will keep constantly on hand a large and select line of Furniture and Undertaker's Goods. My prices will be as low as such goods can be bought in the cities. Give me a trial and you will be convinced that I sell lower than the lowest.

EXTRA NEWS CONDENSED.

—Eight to 10 inches of snow fell Sunday in the Valley of Virginia.

—The United States man-of-war Vandalia left San Francisco Sunday for the Samoa Islands.

—A Texas mob and a sheriff's posse fought over a lot of horse thieves and seven persons were killed and as many wounded.

—The news has just reached London that when the Mahdi's forces captured and sacked Khartoum, Gen. Gordon was speared and beaten by officers after his surrender and his body cut to pieces.

—In Mercer, Co. Mo., a couple of lovers stole Henry Thomas' two girls and were making off with them to a Gretna Green when the old man overtook them and shot both to death, besides wounding one of his daughters who has since died. A mob then took the old man and swung him to a limb.

—Mrs. Minnie Hall, a young widow, and her four children were burned to death in their home, near Brookfield, Mo. Tracks of a man were found near the house and on being followed resulted in the arrest of James A. Howell, a cousin of Mrs. Hall, who is known to have been visiting her.

High or low tariff does not concern poultry, America's greatest industry, but Ganter's magic chicken cholera cure does. Sold "no cure no pay" by McRoberts & Stagg.
